1. Claims 4-6 provide for the use of the fillers, but, since the claims don't set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

2. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 is confusing because it appears that claim 8 should be claiming plastic formulations comprising the filler of claims 1-3.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Benecke of EP872502.

In claim one of Benecke, he discloses polyurethane prepolymers comprising 10-30 wt.% (f), which would be the same as component (A), 20-40 wt.% (e), which is the same as (B), 5-10 wt.% of an anionic component and 35-55 wt. % polyisocyanate. These amounts all overlap with the applicant's claims. Benecke crosslinks the prepolymer with polyamine.

5. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to for depending on rejected claims.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Rachel F. Gorr whose telephone number is 571-272-1072. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon., Tues., Thurs., Fri., from 7:00 AM to 5:30 PM.
